

What is Autism?

Autism is a neurodevelopmental disorder characterized by impaired social interaction, impaired verbal and non-verbal communication, restricted and repetitive behavior. It is also commonly referred to as Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD). According to the CDC's Autism and Developmental Disabilities Monitoring (ADDM) Network, about 1 in 59 children has been identified with autism spectrum disorder (ASD)

What are some of the symptoms of autism?

Autism spectrum disorder (ASD) is a developmental disability caused by differences in the brain. Social issues are one of the most common symptoms in all types of ASD. Some examples are: avoiding eye-contact, difficulty in understanding personal space boundaries, prefers to play alone, not sharing interests with others and other social "difficulties" that can cause serious problems in everyday life.

What is ABA Therapy?

Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) is an evidence-based therapy that focuses on applying techniques that are based upon principles proven to help foster positive development in children with learning disabilities and challenging behaviors.

One of the primary strategies used in ABA is, positive reinforcement. ABA therapy is widely recognized as the most effective, evidence-based treatment for those with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD).

Behavior Therapists work on basic skills such as focusing and listening, while simultaneously tapping into more complex skills such as reading and social skills. Following these steps helps reduce behaviors that make it harder for children to learn, thereby giving them the skills to develop, learn and grow in healthy and positive way.

Coordination of Care

Our dedicated team works with the teachers and therapists in each child's school to ensure the highest level of care, correlate therapies, and to implement this methodology to provide long lasting results with children we treat.

Functional Assessment

We perform a comprehensive functional assessment to help determine your child's challenges, strengths and learning methods.

Parents Training

We empower parents by teaching them the necessary tools and strategies to respond to their child's actions and needs.

School-Based Support

Golden Steps ABA will partner with your child's school to develop effective instructional programs based on the principles and methodologies of ABA.

Home-Based ABA

Individualized ABA therapy in the comfort of your home can help your child learn social skills, positive behaviors, academics, communication and increased focus.
